Rescued From Death
William J. Oughlin, of Somerville, Mass., says: In the fall of 1876 I was taken with a severe cold, followed by a severe cough. I lost my appetite and flesh, and was confined to my bed. In 1877 I was admitted to the hospital. The doctors said I had a hole in my lung as big as a half dollar. At one time a report went around that I was dead. I gave up hope, but a friend told me of Dr. Williams' Hall's Balm for Rheumatism. I got a bottle, when to my surprise I commenced to feel better, and to-day I feel better than for three years past. I write this hoping some one afflicted with Rheumatism will take Dr. Williams' Hall's Balm. It has done more good than all the other medicines I have taken since my sickness.

Something New.
In transit from New York is an immense variety of Spring fabrics in the new designs for 1882. My importation of English, Scotch and French casimere includes all the choicest productions of the foreign mills, and my lines of domestic casimere are full and varied. No California or Oregon goods in stock. Suits, new woolen goods, at $2 and upwards. Pants, new woolen goods, at $7 and upwards. My coats do not "chafe" or fall off at the collar bag in the back, or stick out in front. Call at the oldest establishment in Reno, and no effort will be spared to please you. F. KOLSTER, mar28-11

To the Traveling Public.
People who ride on railroad trains need good watches. W. B. Miller, of Sacramento, keeps them, and invites all who visit that city to call at his store, No. 638 J street, and examine his stock. He makes a specialty of standard timekeepers for conductors, engineers and other railroad men, and guarantees his goods and prices to be bargainable. He has a large and fine stock of jewelry, diamonds, silver and plated ware, clocks, etc. mar28-11

Notice to the Public.
The citizens of Reno are hereby notified that I will, with the assistance of my family, carry on the business in the bakery known as "Jake Graff's" bakery, as heretofore, and respectfully ask the patronage of all our old friends for the support of said family. Contrary reports notwithstanding, Eddie Graff will deliver bread to all customers with his well-known civility and dispatch. Mrs. MAGDALENA GRAFF. mar28-11

Eucalyptus.
Eucalyptus has of late years been found very useful for a great number of the ills flesh is heir to. Its latest application is in the shape of Silvan's California Pine and Eucalyptus Porous Plaster, an article which is possessed of much merit, and is fast superseding the old-fashioned pitch and frankincense plaster. It is endorsed by the medical profession throughout the land. For sale by all druggists. R. K. Queen, agent, Reno. mar28-11

Hub Punch.
Clear, or with hot or cold water, milk or lemonade. "Tope" every punch for flavor. Directly the cork is drawn, it is ready and can be used clear, or mixed with hot or cold water to suit the taste. Sold by all Grocers, Wine Merchants and Druggists. Agents for the Pacific Coast, San Francisco.

A Card.
To all who are suffering from the errors and indiscretions of youth, nervous weakness, early decay, loss of manhood, etc., I will send a recipe that will cure you. FREE OF CHARGE. This great remedy was discovered by a missionary in South America. Send a self-addressed envelope to the Rev. JOSEPH T. INMAN, Station D, New York City. mar28-11

How young never you may be.
With falling teeth, you're grim and old; And losing your manhood, you're old and cold. Your features seem both dull and cold. Then man or maid, warned of your fate, Seek SOZODONT, for it's too late.

CAUSE OF INDIAN TROUBLES.

Extensive deposits of coal were found about a year ago in the San Carlos or White Mountain Indian Reservation, Arizona. These deposits are peculiarly valuable because of the scarcity of wood and other fuel in the Territory. Miners and prospectors poured in, and the Indians became excited. It was with great difficulty that the reservation was cleared of intruders. Many efforts were made to get lawful possession of the coal. Appeals were made for the segregation of the coal-bearing lands from the remainder of the reservation. Requests were made for leases, and propositions were submitted for the exchange of other lands for the coal lands. At last the agent called the Indians together and supervised the execution by them of a lease which placed in the hands of one man for fifty years, for a cash royalty, all coal or other mineral lands in the reservation. This lease was promptly disapproved by the department. It was then proposed to remove the Indians, but they were opposed to such steps, and it was reported there was no other place in the Territories where they would be less in the way of railroads and white settlements. The reservation has been reduced in size five times within ten years. Its area is 250,000 acres, but only about 1,600 acres are tillable. There are on the reservation 4,578 Apaches, including the Chiricahuas, who are now on the warpath. It is not difficult to infer from the account given by the department that the outbreak which has cost many lives, was indirectly caused by the efforts made to get possession of the coal and drive the Indians to some other place. It was proposed to remove them to the Indian Territory. They replied that the women and children and old men might be removed by force, but that the young and middle-aged would never go. The Indian Commissioner suggests the enactment of a law authorizing the Secretary of the Interior to lease the coal lands to the highest bidder, and to pay the receipts into the Treasury to offset the money, $300,000 per annum, expended in the support and care of these Indians.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

Queen Victoria has been upon the throne for the long period of 44 years, and now is 63 years of age. Her reign lacks but a single year of being as long as the reign of Queen Elizabeth. Yet should Queen Victoria enjoy as long a life as that of her grandfather, George the Third, and wear the crown until her death, her reign will run into the twentieth century, and her subjects of 1901 will gaze upon her in the eighty-second year of her age.

A very remarkable improvement in the telephone, by means of which vocal messages can be transmitted over the wires thousands, instead of tens and hundreds of miles, as heretofore, is reported to have been recently demonstrated in Boston, where the main office of the Bell Telephone Company is situated.

Something Suspicious.

WASHINGTON, May 3. In the Senate, Voorhees offered a resolution creating a committee of investigation to ascertain whether corrupt or improper influence has been brought to bear on any member of the Senate in regard to the bill pending before the Senate Finance Committee to amend the laws regarding distilled spirits in special bonded warehouses. Also, to inquire if any attempt has been made to bring any such improper or corrupt influences to bear on any members of the Senate to secure the passage or defeat of the bill; the committee to send for persons and papers and report as early as practicable.

A Big Thing in the Dark.

CHICAGO, May 3. The Inter-Ocean makes a mysterious but prominent announcement that an advanced step in railroad building has been discovered which will revolutionize that service and put it 50 years ahead of the age. It says officials of the six largest and most enterprising roads in the Mississippi valley have been for two days discussing the new improvement, the nature of which will be announced in a few days.

TO-DAY'S NEWS

Press Dispatches to EVENING GAZETTE.

EASTERN.

A Lecture on Asiatic Women.

CHICAGO, May 3.

Mrs. W. F. Bainbridge, of Providence, R. I., gave an address on the women of China and Japan, at the Baptist church last evening. She has spent considerable time in these countries in missionary work. Women, she said, exerted a powerful influence in Asia, and through them, countries will most readily be converted to Christianity; still they are very degraded and ignorant. "I saw a Chinaman one day going to market with five baby girls in a basket, who said he hoped to get as high as 40 cents apiece for them." Said the speaker: Not over one woman in a hundred can read, but they are all willing to learn, especially from teachers of their own sex. They are slowly rising from their degradation, and are gaining new ideas of freedom, so that in time they may be even considered equals of their husbands. Even now, a mother-in-law is recognized as powerful in some large families. She will as a monarch. "Have you got a mother-in-law?" is one of the first questions asked of a stranger in China.

More Indian Troubles Feared.

LARAMIE CITY (Wy. T.), May 3. Acting under recent orders, the troops at Fort Washakie have been compelled to leave the post, and there being no provisions made for defense, the women and children at the post are now fearing a general massacre at any moment by the Indians. Civilians are arming themselves to protect the post, but it is feared that they would not be able to withstand the Indians, who are greatly excited over the killing of Jack.

Congressional Items.

WASHINGTON, May 3.

The Senate Military Committee today submitted a report of the investigation of the Soldiers' Home at Washington, sustaining the charges of abuses in the management, extravagance, etc., and introduced a bill to carry out reform. The debate on the repeal of the statute excluding ex-Confederates from the army took a decided partisan shape. Ingalls said that Southern Senators had in the last two years extolled Jeff. Davis and Lee. Voorhees replied, and Hurley took part in the debate.

A Survey of Alaska.

CHICAGO, May 3.

A Washington special says: The attention of many Senators has been drawn to the provisions of the bill recently reported from the Committee on Territories, whereby a junketing trip to Alaska is provided in the name of making a scientific survey of that region by a few army officers. The Secretary of the Interior sent to the Senate to-day a communication on the subject, calling attention to the propriety of the United States Geological Survey of Territories making this examination, and doing it at once.

A Rough Time.

NEW YORK, May 3.

The Herald's London dispatch says: The story of the sufferings of Danenhower and his comrades, before and after leaving the Jeannette, is too long to relate here. When they landed their legs were so swollen and frost-bitten that they were obliged almost to crawl on their hands and knees until they could get fuel to light fires. Both Danenhower and Cole were noted among the party for strength and vigor.

Will Arthur Sign It?

WASHINGTON, May 3.

Some of the strongest opponents of the Chinese bill say they believe the President will veto the bill as it passed the House last night, but it is generally believed he will concede something and sign it, rather than endanger the party's chances on the Pacific coast by further delay.

Diamonds Seized.

NEW YORK, May 3.

Three old books which arrived by mail from Europe yesterday were found to have been neatly hollowed and filled with diamonds and jewelry, valued at $3,500. The package was addressed to a leading jeweler at Cincinnati, but found its way to the Custom-house.

The New York Collectorship.

WASHINGTON, May 3.

Thomas Murphy of New York City, who has made frequent visits to the national capital since Arthur became President, and who is now here, is applying for the Collectorship of New York. It is reported that Robertson will be superseded at no distant day.

An Old Journalist Dead.

DOVER, N. H., May 3.

The dead body of Judge Varney was found under the walls of the burned church last night. He was editor of the Dover Inquirer, a weekly journal, and the Daily Republican.

A Threat to Economize.

WASHINGTON, May 3.

In the course of discussion in the Senate this afternoon on the question of printing, the report of the Secretary of War, showing how so much money was used for traveling and similar purposes in the army, Senator Plumb said, this thing of ordering army officers from one place to another that they might visit their families or sweethearts, had become an outrage and should be stopped. He said it was very nice for an officer to have an order to visit a place he wanted to visit, because that order provided for all his expenses. There was no necessity for so many officers here in Washington. He thought when the department exceeded the amount allowed by Congress for such expenses it ought to be the subject of Congressional investigation.

Advice for the Irish-Americans.

WASHINGTON, May 3.

The State Department furnishes a letter from Earl Granville to Minister West concerning the imprisonment of American citizens in Ireland, in which he details at considerable length the view taken by the English Government on the subject, and heretofore published, to the effect that American Irishmen in Ireland must submit, like other Irishmen, to the laws. He quoted at some length from Seward's dispatches during the rebellion, to show that the position taken by the British Government now is the same as held by the United States Government in 1866.

Death of a Famous Pantomimist.

NEW YORK, May 3.

News has been received here of the death at Toulouse, France, recently, of Gabriel Ravel, the well known pantomimist of the last generation. He was 72 years old.

FOREIGN.

Release of Parnell, Dillon and O'Kelly.

DUBLIN, May 2.

Parnell, Dillon and O'Kelly have been released from Kilmainham jail. After their release they drove out upon the outskirts of the city to Harcourt street station, where they took a train for Avondale, the residence of Parnell, where they will remain two days, and will arrive in London on Friday.

Five suspects were to-day unconditionally released from jail.

Forster's resignation caused considerable sensation among the general public, although it was fully expected that the new departure in the Irish policy of the Government would cause some dissension in the Cabinet. There is general satisfaction at the course taken by the Government.

There was great excitement at the news being received of the resignation of Forster. Crowds gathered on the streets and cheered for Parnell and groaned for Forster. Bands paraded playing the national airs. The news was quickly transmitted through the country, and soon fires were blazing in Wicklow Hall. There was spontaneous rejoicing everywhere. At Limerick many people danced with joy, shouting, "Forster has gone. God save Ireland!" Bands paraded at Waterford, and illuminations were general. Parnell, Dillon and O'Kelly were released at 11 o'clock to-night. Further changes at Dublin Castle are expected. Thomas Henry Burke, under Secretary, and Colonel Hillier, Inspector General of the Constabulary, will probably resign.

SPECULATIONS.

LONDON, May 2.

There is little doubt that Parnell's liberation is the result of direct negotiations between himself and the Government, and that he has got the best of the treaty. A statement was made in several papers that some gentlemen had visited Kilmainham and interviewed Parnell twice in one day. A question was asked in the House of Commons about the matter. It is said Captain O'Shea was the party who made the visit, and did so as an ambassador of the Government. The result is seen in the terms of peace. The truce included a complete change of policy, namely: Lord Cowper shunted for "a strong man of experience" on one occasion in the lobby, a spiked cannon; the release of all the suspects not charged with actual crime; the lapsing of the Coercion Act in September; the taking of the Irish members into consultation in the government of Ireland, and a measure to improve the Land Act. Gladstone's statement that a measure might be proposed to deal with secret societies is looked upon as a kind of saving clause for appearances sake.

GLADSTONE ON THE RETREAT.

Seldom has it been the lot of a Premier to announce a change of policy amid so much derision as was manifested in the House this evening. Gladstone seemed to feel himself in a false position. His anxiously-awaited statement was made with an air of timidity quite foreign to him, and with a brevity of phrase altogether unusual. His embarrassment was especially evident when he endeavored to show consistency and unchanging purpose on the part of the Government, while to the sense of the whole House he was announcing a retreat all along the line. The mocking laughter and bitter scorn wherewith from time to time his words were greeted, made the task painful, though he tried hard to put a bold face on the matter. It was the general feeling of the House, even on the Ministerial side, that Forster had been made a Jonah, and that he entirely disapproved of the policy of the Government in releasing the three members of Parliament and the other suspects. It was evident, from his curt, stern answers to questions put to-night by the Irish police and magistrate, that his full statement, or apology, as it is being called, will not come until Thursday, owing to the necessity of obtaining the sanction of His Majesty to his retirement. He, however, took no trouble to conceal his disgust. The Land League party are mild and conciliatory. A broken promise of anything from that quarter means a good deal. They have, in fact, beaten the Government, and they know it.

NEWSPAPER COMMENTS.

LONDON, May 3.

The Times says if Parnell will make use of his liberty to restore order, there may be an immediate improvement in the condition of Ireland.

The same paper also says if the latest daring change available to vanquish disorder in Ireland, there can be no doubt of the fate of the Cabinet. The Standard asks if amnesty is to be real, on what ground can Davitt be excluded from it?

The Post remarks: The Government is in despair, and, like a desperate man, is playing a desperate game to retrieve its fortunes.

Seal Fishing.
An outfit for seal fishing will cost from $5,000 to $7,000, and comprises a small sloop or schooner of about 25 tons burden, carrying two yawl boats and manned by four men, one of whom acts as captain and another as cook. They have breech-loading rifles with which they shoot the seals, and then they have to grapple them before they sink. If shot dead instantly they sink to the bottom. The fur seal is found near Cape Flattery, but his fur is vastly inferior to that of the seals found upon the islands of the Alaskan archipelago. Besides these the spotted seal is found all along the coast, and can be seen in the Columbia River all the way up to the Cascades during the salmon season. His skin is used for office and dining-room furniture, and they are now beginning to use them for cheap trunks.

The Great Lick Telescope.
We take the following from Nature, the leading scientific journal of England. Under date of April 6th, 1883, it says: "Our Paris correspondent inspected a few days ago, at Felt's workshop, the large flint-glass disk which has been cast for the Lick Observatory in California, and purchased by the Trustees for $2,000. It is now on its way to Clark's for polishing. Its diameter is 38.34 inches, its thickness 21.65 inches, its weight 374.85 pounds avoirdupois. This casting took place in four days, during which eight tons of coal were consumed. The cooling took 80 days. On the optical tests being made the glass was found perfect in all its parts. The crown-glass disk has been cast and is cooling."
